"U.S. WANTS PEACE" IKE'S MESSAGE

Lowman Denies Swapout For Pulling Out Of State Race

ASHLAND (UPI) — State Rep. Harry King Lowman denied Thursday that he withdrew as a possible Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor for the promise of the post of speaker of the House of Representatives in the 1960 General Assembly.

Lowman said, "I never filed for lieutenant governor. I announced my intention to seek the office but after the merger of Mr. Bert Combs and Mr. Wilson W. Wyatt, a survey was made and I learned earlier than most what was going to happen in May and November 1959.

"Therefore I withdrew my name from any further consideration for any office other than representative. There were no promises made, and none were kept regarding any position, either at the time of my withdrawal or any other time.

In fact, I did not talk to Mr. Combs or Mr. Wyatt for some time after my decision was announced," he added.

Gov. A. B. Chandler charged at a Thursday press conference in Frankfort that, "These fellows Combs and Wyatt ran for office on a platform of non-interference with the legislature. Everyone knows that when they got Lowman to withdraw from the lieutenant governor's race, they promised him the speakership" of the House.

The governor also accused Lt. Gov.-elect Wilson W. Wyatt, Louisville mayor made at Ashland last Monday that Lowman might be elected speaker of the House.

Wyatt said Thursday that he was "predicting-not nominating," when he said Lowman might be speaker.

Lowman, while stating that he would be "privileged and honored to serve" as speaker of the House, added, "The sovereignty of the legislature is a principle I have cherished and fought for during my entire tenure in the legislature.

"It is a principle in which I believe and would fight for today. Anybody who is serving in the legislature would be proud to be considered and have his name placed before a caucus for any position of leadership.

It has been extremely flattering to me that so many returning legislators and newly elected members have expressed an interest in my seeking the post of speaker.

"Naturally I am grateful to them and to all others who have expressed confidence in me. It is the greatest gift that the House of Representatives has to offer, and naturally, if the members see fit to select me, it would be a privilege and honor to serve," Lowman added.

"My first responsibility is to Boyd County and the state of Kentucky and it is one which I intend to discharge with all the strength and vigor at my command."

Disaster May See Over 500 Dead In France

By ROBERT AHIER
United Press International
FREJUS, France (UPI) — Government investigators sought today to find out why "the world's thinnest dam" collapsed the first time it was filled to capacity and buried this Riviera town under a sea of water and mud.

Latest government figures set the toll of the Wednesday night disaster at 270 dead, 50 missing, and 70 injured. But many more victims were feared swallowed up in the oozing mud that choked the six-mile-long Regnan Valley. Many were swept out into the Mediterranean on a mountain of water.

Unconfirmed reports said 500 were killed.

A mass funeral planned for this afternoon could accommodate only 90 bodies, for the supply of coffins ran out.

A priest, his black robes plastered with thick red mud, blessed the dead in unmarked coffins.

"I helped to place people in coffins, including many, sweet children," he said. "While I was seeing it, I somehow didn't realize the horror of the whole thing. But when I stood back to look at with the families of the victims, I broke down and could not help crying."

All of France shared the priest's horror. President Charles de Gaulle called the Frejus disaster a "catastrophe" and ordered government experts to find out what caused the tall, thin Malpasset Dam to crumble and send 50 million tons of water on a rampage down the Regnan Valley and over the town of Frejus.

Engineers slashed through the red mud to the collapsed dam to check its faulty foundations. Ironically, Malpasset, roughly translated, means "it went badly."

There were reports the dam completed in 1954, was so named because of a series of troubles that beset

Armed Robbery Sentence Is Commuted

Ted Cravens, who has been serving a life sentence on an armed robbery charge, has had his sentence commuted to time served by acting Governor Mrs. Thelma Stovall.

Cravens was convicted last February of the charge to which he had pleaded guilty.

The incident involved the holding up of the Aubrey Smith Grocery on the East Highway near Kentucky Lake. He was arrested here in Murray. His parents lived in Plymouth, Michigan. The family is originally from Paoli, Tennessee.

Mrs. Stovall was governor of Kentucky for four hours yesterday when Governor A. B. Chandler and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield were in Cincinnati, Ohio. The pair left Kentucky at 1:25 and returned at 5:30 p. m.

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Kentucky Secretary of State Mrs. Thelma L. Stovall was back at her familiar desk today after a four-hour tenure as the state's third woman governor.

Mrs. Stovall was acting governor of the commonwealth Thursday afternoon while Gov. A. B. Chandler and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield were in Cincinnati. They left Kentucky for Cincinnati at 1:25 and returned at 5:30 p. m.

During her short-lived "administration," Mrs. Stovall named her sister to a state seat, issued pardons to a convicted killer and a bootlegger, commuted the sentences of three bandits and commissioned a Kentucky Colonel.

She named her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Whitworth, Louisville, acting assistant Secretary of State for the day and conferred the title of Kentucky Colonel on Mrs. Paul Jackson, Versailles, wife of state Sen. Paul Jackson.

Mrs. Stovall granted a pardon to Massie Guert, who had been convicted in a manslaughter charge in Hart County. Mrs. Stovall's home county. In 1957 and had been sentenced to 21 years in prison.

She also issued a pardon to Galen McGuffin of Arch, Ky., who had been sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $300 on his second conviction of violating local-option laws of 1958.

She also commuted the sentences of three prisoners in the State Reformatory at LaGrange.

Dorcas Dorman, who was sentenced to life on an armed robbery conviction in Spencer County in November 1956, received a commutation of sentence to 10 years.

Verne Young, who was sentenced to five years on a storehouse breaking conviction in Christian County in July 1958, received a commutation of sentence to the time already served.

Crosby Brothers Have Breakup

MONTREAL (UPI) — The Crosby brothers, who vowed less than a year ago to stay eternally together in show business, split up early today and walked out on a $12,000 night club engagement.

The breakup was preceded by a heated argument in their dressing room shortly before their scheduled midnight appearance at the El Morocco, it was reported.

A spokesman for the club said the split-up "was due to internal strife."

He said the group still had seven more performances to go before fulfilling their contract.

The boys, Gary, 26, twins Dennis and Philip, 24, and Lindsay, 22, have been known to have had disagreements in the past. Gary, usually the spokesman for the group, was said to have a quick temper and the others were reported to resent his bossiness.

Just recently Gary reconciled with his famous crooner father Bing, after a prolonged feud,

Rooney Fails To Appear On Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jack Paar appeared on his nightly television show as usual Thursday night, but as Mickey Rooney wasn't around to trade barbs with him.

The two performers had planned a peace meeting before a nationwide audience on Paar's show to let everybody know there were no hurt feelings from their encounter Tuesday night.

"I am convinced nothing further could be gained by anyone were I to appear with Jack Paar. I told him personally that I was sorry for what had occurred Tuesday night. As far as I'm concerned the whole matter is forgotten."

The Tuesday night incident came when Paar accused Rooney of being "loaded" while on the show and invited him to leave.

A 15-minute "rescission" meeting was held Wednesday afternoon and they agreed to forget the whole thing, including threats by Rooney that he would punch Paar on the nose and sue for slander.

Rooney, at the time, also consented to make a guest appearance on the show.

Said Paar after Rooney backed out of Thursday night's show: "I'm sorry he won't come back. We stand on his statement and hope to be rematched later at a better price."

Wrought Iron Fence Is Erected Around Confederate Monument

A white wrought iron fence has been erected around the Confederate monument on the court square through work of the Murray Chamber of Commerce, United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Calloway Fiscal Court.

The UDC chapter raised the money for the protective fence and the Chamber of Commerce handled other details. Permission was granted by the court for erection of the fence.

The Calloway Times of Wednesday June 2, 1920 carried a story on the monument which had just been erected.

This story is printed as it appeared in that issue.

A memorial in which Calloway County can take justifiable pride is at last in operation. The J. N. Williams Chapter of U. D. C. raised the funds and paid for the beautiful Confederate monument. The Fiscal Court, City Council, Sewerage Company and Board of Trade have made the necessary connections.

"The Daughters deeply appreciate their help and are grateful for every contribution, large and small, that has made possible this serviceable and beautiful monument to the Calloway men who were the gray and fought for their altars and their homes. They are all old men now, then they were gallant boys. We love them and are happy to do them honor."

"Six large individual gifts were made: J. N. Williams, S. H. Dees, A. J. Grief, Dr. Groves, R. L. Ellison and J. G. McKnight, each gave $100, and Mr. McKnight bought the Confederate quilt, making his contribution $125. The largest gift was from the Fiscal Court, $250. These gifts gave encouragement when hope

Bass Being Taken Off Rocky Points

FRANKFORT (UPI) — The jigging season was well underway today on the upper half of Lake Cumberland, following rains which modded the waters, the state Fish and Wildlife Resources Department reported.

Kentucky Lake sources report bass being taken off the rocky points and deep banks. Some fishermen were having fair luck by casting medium deep running lures in these spots.

The Burnside area and downstream for a few miles were reported ideal for jigging. Some large bass are being landed off the shallow, muddy banks on night crawlers. Bass are also being caught by jigging with minnows where clear pools of water appear in the tributaries.

At Dale Hollow, Bass and Crappie were being caught by the few fishermen on the lake. Bass were reported hitting off the rocky points and shallow banks by casting medium deep running lures during the day, and crappie were taken by still fishermen around the fallen underwater treetops at depths of 10 to 15 feet.

Few fishermen were reported at Herrington Lake this week but some bass are biting on medium and deep-running lures.

Monkey Fired 55 Miles Into Space

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A seven-pound monkey named Sam was rocketed 55 miles into space today in a successful test of escape equipment designed to assure the safety of human astronauts of the future.

Sam, a 30-month old American born rhesus, was sent aloft from Wallops Island, Va., at 11:15 a. m. EST, in a capsule like the one which will carry space pilots into orbit in the Mercury manned satellite program.

When the capsule reached an altitude of about 20 miles, an escape rocket, mounted on a 14-foot tower above it, ignited with a burst of flame.

The powerful escape rocket, generating about 500 pounds of thrust, lifted the capsule away from the booster at a speed of 200 feet a second.

— Destroyer On Way —

The capsule and tower coasted on up to about 55 miles and the tower was jettisoned by a timing device.

Minutes later, the capsule had descended by parachute into the choppy Atlantic 200 miles from shore.

The Destroyer Borie was steaming toward the capsule in order to pick it up at about 1 p. m. EST.

Navy search planes flew around the capsule to keep it in sight and direct the Borie in its rescue operations.

The launching was carried out in fine weather. NASA officials here said the escape equipment apparently functioned perfectly.

The flight originally was planned for 6:30 a. m. EST, but was postponed to 11:15 a. m. because the Atlantic waters off the Virginia coast were too choppy for a while for the capsule recovery attempt.

The waves subsided, however, and the experiment was carried on as planned.

The shot was designed primarily to test the operation of the pilot escape system which will be used in the Mercury manned-satellite program.

Tells Italians That America Desires To Live In Peace

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
ROME (UPI) — President Eisenhower delivered to the Italian people today a "simple message from America...we want to live in peace."

He stood bare-headed in wind and driving rain for the playing of the United States and Italian national anthems after stepping down to the middle-filled runway of Ciampino Airport from the 307 jet airliner that carried him here from Washington at the start of an 11-nation goodwill tour.

The heavy rain that had pelted Rome for a week delayed his arrival by 16 minutes and gave the airport ground radar installations a few moments of difficulty in locating the presidential plane as it approached for a landing in a heavy overcast.

But the huge plane splashed down to a safe and wet landing at 12:16 p. m. (6:16 a. e. s. t.).

Greeted By President

When he stepped from the aircraft, Eisenhower was greeted by Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, Premier Antonio Segni and a host of other officials.

The rain held the crowd to a minimum, but even the Communists had joined with the rest of Italy before hand to make it clear that Eisenhower's visit was welcomed with warmth and high hopes for world peace.

The weather was the principal negative factor on this second trip abroad for the President this year. When he was in Europe last August for talks with allied leaders he also hit a siege of dampness. That time he came down with a cold and a lingering chest ailment which caused concern for a man nearing 70. He was in good health when he began this trip.

The President got out of the rain soon after his arrival. He rode in a closed limousine to his guest quarters at the Quirinale Palace and entered under an awning. Italian President Giovanni Gronchi and practically the entire Italian cabinet escorted him through the palace, then left him in his suite for a rest and private lunch before state talks started.

Eisenhower bowed his head when the anthems sounded and then his welcoming covered him with an umbrella for the walk to the balcony where he delivered the first speech of a peace campaign that will take him halfway around the world.

— Cites "Blood Ties" —

"We want to live in peace and friendship, with freedom," the President repeated.

"This message, I hope, will be heard in every country where communications are free.

"I am exceedingly proud as I start this trip to be in this great city which so long was the center of Western civilization," Eisenhower said.

He added that "blood ties" linked the two countries because of the 10 million persons of Italian ancestry in the United States, and he said Italy and the United States would continue to stand and work together for world peace.

"Our friendship is not only official, but one people clasping hands across the sea as relatives, in justice and in freedom."

Eisenhower expressed his particular thanks for the warm welcome by President Gronchi, and Gronchi replied, it "is certain you will make an effective contribution to the cause of the West and of the cause of peace which we all are serving."

— "Unanimous" Tribute —

Gronchi said despite the multi-party Italian system, which includes a powerful Communist faction, Italy's tribute to Eisenhower "is unanimous—I want to stress the word 'unanimous.'"

For the actual seven-mile trip into town Eisenhower used a limousine instead of a convertible. His route took him along the ancient Appian Way past historic landmarks of unique glory and beauty.

Along the way there were the great 1000-year-old Circus Maximus, the sprawling ruins of the Baths of Caracalla built 17 centuries ago by a cruel and luxury loving emperor, and the triumphal Arch of Constantine, the emperor who recognized Christianity.

The airport was cordoned off six hours before the President arrived and although even Italy's huge Communist party membership gave glowing praise to the mission of good will, the government was taking no chances on any incident.

Eisenhower was met at the airport by Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, the premier, the foreign minister, the defense minister, the presidents of Parliament, the apostolic nuncio to Italy, the Italian service chiefs of staff and U. S. Ambassador James D. Zellerbach.

— Hailed As Man of Courage —

The warmth of the official welcome was outdistanced by the Italian people themselves who have millions of relatives in the United States and look with warm approval on Eisenhower and on his historic and ambitious journey.

Newspapers in Rome hailed him as a man of great courage who "instead of observing a cautious immobility a year before elections, directly takes up all sorts of risks, extremely tiring efforts and unpredictable adventures."

The Communist who once demonstrated in the streets against Eisenhower's presence in Rome as supreme commander of the NATO forces hailed him today as a man seeking peace. For Eisenhower also carried with him the approval of the Soviet Union in line with its "thaw-the-cold-war offensive."

Upon landing the President reviewed an Italian honor guard and delivered a brief address recorded by more than 400 news, radio and television men and sent live across Western Europe and across the English Channel to Britain.

Press Plane Lands First

A plane carrying U. S. press representatives landed an hour ahead of the President.

Eisenhower's motorcade, escorted by federal police, swept through the streets of modern Rome where Italians had lined up for hours to cheer and wave. The trip to town was along the ancient Appian Way, built 2,600 years ago.

"The crowds waiting to welcome Eisenhower peered anxiously at the skies. It has rained in Rome for five days and it rained this morning. A radiant rainbow appeared in the sky at one moment but the sun was shrouded, and a steady drizzle set in."

The President left Washington at 8:11 p. m. EST. Thursday on his first trip to Europe, to 11 nations—friends or allies of the United States—in Europe, Africa and Asia. The plane made a brief refueling stop at Goose Bay, Lab. Thursday night but Eisenhower did not leave his aircraft.

— Two-Day Conference —

For two days he will confer with Premier Antonio Segni and other Italian leaders and on Sunday he will have an audience with Pope John XXIII, the first meeting of an incumbent American president with a Pope since Woodrow Wilson called on Benedict XV 40 years ago.

tors threatened at every stage, until Phillip Haley fired in a jumper with 2:51 left to play. The basket gave the La. squad an 83-82 edge
it maintained despite all efforts by the Thoroughbreds to regain control.

Murray led from one to five points throughout the first half in a game that presented fans with an excellent battle of shooting talents. The Racers were on top 48-34 at halftime. Mike O'Riordan scored 12 points for Murray in the first half and a long series of beautiful tip-ins in the second period enabled the rugged forward to finish with 20 markers. Gene Wright, a driving guard for Northwestern,
also hit for 12 in the opening period.

Northwestern took the tip at the halftime toss and immediately preceded to wipe out the "Breds" lead with three consecutive baskets. The score was deadlocked at 40-40 on a fielder by Haley with 18:04 left in the period.

The score was knotted three times before Murray was finally able to develop a steady lead that ranged from one to seven points, 55-48, the largest of the game.

Northwestern tied the score twice more before Haley fired his lead-changing jumper with less than three minutes to play.

At 1:56 Northwestern took possession and began to stall with Wright displaying a brilliant exhibition of dribbling. With the Racer defense out on the press, Adkins, a substitute, got in close to up the margin to its ee points, 85-82.
But in his drive to the goal he was called for charging and Murray's Harold Wilkins hit both free throws to narrow the margin back to one, 85-84.

On the return trip down court
Haley proved to be the pressure man again as he notched another fielder. Northwestern was called for foul tending on Murray's return and the Racers trailed by one, 87-86.

With 26 seconds left in the game,
Murray led 88-86.

Northwestern began its death-dealing stall again that lasted until an intentional foul stopped the clock at :04. Larry Skinner hit the first of two charity tosses, Murray rebounded but lost possession.

Murray scored on 36 field goals,
16 of 23 foul shots, and was charged with 19 personal fouls. Northwestern scored on 34 field goals, 20 of 27 charity tosses, and committed 16 personal fouls.

Four players on each team scored in double figures. O'Riordan topped Murray with 20 followed closely by Jarrell Graham with 19. Wilkins hit for 16 and Herndon for 11.

Gene Wright led the visitors
and took game honors with 28 points. William Weldon fired in 19 points. Haley added 17 and Skinner hit for 14.

A recent survey found that at least one-third of the nation's country clubs raised their dues or initiation fees during the past year.

India's wheat crop this year was a record 302 million bushels, about 25 per cent more than last year.

A recent survey by the National Industrial Conference Board
shows that 58 per cent of all non-farm families in the United States own their own homes, compared with 51 per cent 10 years ago.

Almost half of all privately owned homes in the U. S. have no mortgage debt outstanding, according to the National Industrial Conference Board.

The United States has been divided into 250,000 districts for the 1960 census. They range in size from a single apartment building to hundreds of square miles, according to the National Geographic Magazine.

Weekly TVA Newsletter

TVA said today that a new series of sawmill conferences has started in the Tennessee Valley that could mean an extra $10 for sawmill operators on each thousand board feet of hardwood lumber they produce. Based on present production of hardwood lumber in Valley counties this could mean an estimated $2,500,000 in increased hardwood lumber values.

According to Richard Kilbourne, Director of TVA's Division of Forestry Relations, there will be about 20 conferences during the current fiscal year sponsored by TVA and the forestry agencies
of the seven Valley states.

In a recent study of mills sawing oak lumber, "Quality Control
in Circular Sawmill Operations," TVA foresters W. W. King and B. C. Cobb found that lack of quality control in logging and milling is cutting into sawmill profits unnecessarily. Their analysis indicates that logging and milling practices in general use fall short of getting out of a tree
all the potential quality that's in it. Their published study concludes that lack of information about tree log, and lumber grades is primarily responsible.

Mr. Kilbourne said that the purpose of the new series of sawmill conferences is to show sawmill operators how to determine the quality of a tree and then how to realize full potential quality in the lumber they saw from each tree.

"As brought out in the conference," he said, "the place to start lumber quality control is the selection of trees to cut. Small trees are generally of low grade because of knots and other defects. And quite often the costs of converting such trees into lumber amount to more than the resulting lumber is worth.

"Similarly, the study showed that quality control in felling trees and cutting them into logs can increase the value of the lumber by about $2.50 per thousand board feet. At the sawmills, sawyers can add another $2.50
trimmers and edgers another $1-55.

"Since 1950, when TVA began holding sawmill conferences, the objective has been to improve the forest resource and the quality of forest products. We've en-vined that sawmill operators can accomplish these two objectives and actually make more money while doing it."

He said that about 90 conferences have been held so far and that attendance has exceeded 4-800.

Lifting and shipping tree seedlings from its forest nurseries at Clinton, Tenn., and Muscle Shoals, Ala., has started, TVA reported today. According to William G.

Grave, supervisor of nurseries, lifting will continue through the winter and be completed early next spring. An estimated 68 million seedlings will be produced.

Of this year's crop, 50 million will go to the U. S. Forest Service for Soil Bank planting. They are produced under contract for the U. S. Forest Service and TVA is reimbursed for production costs.
During the past three years TVA nurseries have produced 91 million seedlings for the Soil Bank Program.

Other distribution this year will include 7,400,000 seedlings
to the Alabama Division of Forestry, 7,778,000 to the Tennessee Division of Forestry, 950,000 to the Virginia Division of Forestry, 1,106,000 to the U. S. Forest Service for planting on national forests, and 120,000 to the U. S.

Fish and Wildlife Service. The remainder will be planted on TVA lands.

Farmers and other owners of forest lands in Alabama, Tennessee, and Virginia will buy the TVA seedlings through their state agencies, and will pay for them
at state rates.

Since 1934 the two nurseries

have produced nearly 478 million seedlings. The area reforested in the Valley to date is 502,300 acres.

Bertie M. Haskin has been appointed Area Personnel Representative, Chattanooga Employment Office, TVA said today. He has been with TVA since 1935,
and comes to his new position
from the Division of Power Engineering and Construction where he served as Personnel Officer in Chattanooga.

LIKE A MOUNTAIN NAMED FOR YOU?

Not one of these, certainly! They're here today, gone tomorrow. We'd gladly lend our names to a timeless peak like Everest — not to a heap of shifting sands rolling before the desert wind.

Of course, we have to identify ourselves with many a transitory idea and institution. We are busy most of our days just trying to keep up with this ever-changing world . . .

But our deeper self gropes for the Eternal! God understands this yearning. He breathed it into our souls.

A voice crying in the wilderness . . . across the shifting sands . . . of the TRUTH and LIFE that are ETERNAL.

And God answers it: In Christ! In Scripture! In the voice of a neighbor inviting you and your family to Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
